

The Junior Researcher Programme

is pleased to announce

The Open Conference at the 3rd July 2019

Certosa di Pontignano,
Siena (Italy)

What is the Open Conference?

Are you conducting or have you conducted a research project that you would like to present to a group of fellow international psychology students and guest academics? The Open Conference held at the 2019 jSchool is the perfect opportunity for you to do so!

What is included?

Students, early career researchers and JRP Alumni are invited to join the jSchool for half a day, and participate in various academic and social activities. All Open Conference participants will have their abstracts published in the event proceedings and present during our poster session. Participants are encouraged to join an afternoon workshop on using RStudio for research in behavioral sciences.

Programme

14.00: Registration

14.30: R Workshop

17.00: Opening Ceremony

18.00: Poster Session

20.00: Dinner

22.00: Social Event

*Research can be associated to any field of Psychology or related subjects;  Beginners and advanced R workshop options will be available

Head over to our media platforms to learn more about the Open Conference programme, and to sign up to the event. Early bird discounts apply!

Website: jrp.psychologists.org

Facebook: facebook.com/psychologists.jrp

Email: jschool@psychologists.org

