

JRP Role Descriptions 2021-2022

This list and its content are not exhaustive. Applicants are encouraged to suggest new projects or offer their help in unique roles. To increase success of such an application, it is advisable to discuss such roles with the responsible Director first. The Board of Directors may change the title of a position in agreement with the person appointed to the role, if sensible. Upon successful application, some volunteers may be offered special or senior positions within a Team based on outstanding work in previous years.

Directors do not have to re-confirm their appointment. Positions in the jCouncil are by appointment through the Board of Directors only. Volunteers appointed to the jCouncil only have to confirm their appointment.

The Programme Manager is responsible for delegating day-to-day business, monitoring all activities within the programme and supporting the Director of Operations in administrative tasks. He or she should also organise the JRP Internship and Conference under oversight of the Director of Operations

The Public Relations Office is responsible for the promotion of the JRP with the aim of engaging students and making our mission more visible, particularly to boost the profile of young researchers. This position is mainly concerned with managing online material and social media, but other media are likely. PR Officers will work closely with all other teams to promote events. One designated person will be responsible for the technical aspects of the website management.

The Alumni Team works on all aspects regarding the engagement of JRP Alumni. This includes the maintenance of the Mentoring System, updating Alumni on developments within the programme, Alumni event organisation, and future projects. Roles within this team will work closely with the PRO to promote alumni achievements within and outside of the network.

The Research Officer's responsibilities include coordinating and preparing the Research Supervisors and Junior Researchers prior to and during the entire JRP Cohort. This person will coordinate dissemination plans for all 2022-23 JRP research teams, including the preregistrations and the Conference. The role is longer than other positions, beginning officially in January 2022 and ending in September 2023.

The Scientific Affairs Team oversees the scientific aspects of the programme, guiding and supporting the interns in their tasks. Another individual or team will be responsible for organising the scientific aspects of jMeeting and jSchool, as well as scientific partnerships. The team is supervised by the Director of Research. Applicants may also choose to propose projects specifically related to Open Science and best practice implementation.

The Finance Office consists of at least two individuals who work on fundraising activities and budgetary management. It also involves engaging with current and new partners of the programme. Financial Officers may also engage in other tasks.

The jSchool Team is led by the jSchool Director (responsible for the venue and general management of the jSchool week) and supported by a - preferably local - team of associate Coordinators. The structure is subject to change if deemed practical and approved by the jSchool Director. One person will coordinate the Open Conference, which is one day of events open to a broader audience during the jSchool week.
